FIRE DEPARTMENT HOTEL.
South Boston Point.

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that he has taken that well known and extensive establishment, three miles from the city, formerly occupied by Mr. Tait. They hope by strict attention and a desire to please, to merit a share of patronage from the public which was bestowed upon their predecessor. The house is situated in the most pleasant and healthy part of the city, and contiguous to Fort Independence. It has been fitted up in a neat and genteel style—the rooms are airy and retired. The Larder will at all times be provided with every delicacy the season will afford. For further information, apply to the undersigned, at the shortest notice.
Elisha Morse.

TABLE D'HOTE.
At the Howard Street House. The subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that his Ordinary continues to be kept up in the most complete manner, and will be provided with every luxury of the season. Gentlemen wishing to dine at any other hour can be accommodated at the Restaurant. His cellars are provided with Wines of every description, and of the choicest qualities—for which the House has been so long celebrated.
James Ryan.

MASSACHUSETTS HOUSE.
Waltham, Mass.
The subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that this large and elegant establishment, 8 miles from the city, is now open for the reception of company, and every effort will be made to give entire satisfaction to individuals and parties of pleasure, at immediate notice.
John Davis.

HANOVER HOUSE.
No 50 Hanover street, Boston, opposite Elm street.—The above establishment is now undergoing a thorough repair, and will be ready for the reception of company in a few days. The house is newly new, having been built but a few months, and will be furnished with new beds and furniture, and kept under the direction of the subscriber, late of the Pilgrim House, Plymouth, Mass. where he hopes by personal attention, and judicious selection of attendants, to receive a share of public patronage.
Danville Bryant.

WARREN HOUSE.
At the junction of Merrimack and Friend Streets.
This establishment having now gone through extensive and thorough repairs and additions, will compare with any other public house of its size. It has been furnished from top to bottom with new furniture, bedding, carpeting, &c., and is now open for the accommodation of travellers. It is the intention to conduct the House after the mode of the most approved public houses—and every effort will be made personally, and by well tried assistants, to please his former custom and those who may visit the Warren House for the first time.
Extensive stables, with pure water, is attached to the establishment.
Azariah Proctor.

RAILWAY HOUSE, MILTON, MASS.
The subscriber respectfully informs the public that he has taken a lease of this extensive house, and newly refitted and furnished it throughout with every article necessary for the accommodation and comfort of travellers, convivial parties and boarders.
A beautiful grove, with pleasant walks, a garden, swing, &c. are connected with this establishment, and its proximity to the city renders it an inviting place of resort for those who wish to spend a short time away from the confusion and sultry air of a crowded place of business.
The bowling alleys have been newly relaid, and good attendants provided.
The Larder will be stored with the best of provisions, and such delicacies as the season afford. The bar will also be kept supplied with choice wines and liquors. Good stabling for horses.
The Dorchester and Mil on line of stages leave for Boston every morning and noon, and return at noon and evening.
Silas Hall.

LANCASTER HOUSE FOR SALE OR TO LET.
The subscriber, in consequence of the ill health of himself and family, has concluded to relinquish his business, and offers to sell or rent his establishment for a term of years, and give immediate possession.
The House has been recently repaired and fitted up in the most thorough manner. The furniture was new last season, and the house is gently furnished throughout, and is in perfect order. The furniture will be sold at a reasonable price. The central situation of this house, in connection with the travel from every quarter, and the numerous daily communications with the city—together with the unsurpassed beauty of the town, and its healthy location, are objects too well known to need further comment.
Gentlemen who are desirous of purchasing or renting this establishment are invited to call and examine the premises, where the terms will be made known.
Henry Thurston.

PAPER MILL FOR SALE.
For sale in a pleasant village in the town of Leominster, in the county of Worcester, a Paper Mill, with two engines, and a good Cylinder Machine, all in good order, and a good business is on a first rate stream, commanding the whole water—With a never-failing fountain of spring water carried into the mill in lead pipes.
Also—a good House and Barn, and about 40 acres of good land—it is seldom so good a chance is offered to young men wishing to establish themselves in that business. The present owner cleared the property in a very few years, when paper was made by hand, and relinquishes it only on account of ill health—any credit will be given that may be wanted, and possession had the first day of June next. For terms, apply to EDWARD S. MASON, on the premises, or at 116 State st., Boston.
P. S. If not sold by that time, it will be to let.

BISBEE'S IMPROVED DOUBLE ACTING FORCE PUMP.—The subscribers have the pleasure to announce to the public, that they have obtained the right to manufacture and sell Bisbee's Improved Force Pump and persons in want of such an article are invited to examine the same, at Messrs RILEY & KINNEY'S, No 68 and 70 Cornhill. This pump is calculated to supply the place of all others now in use, for drawing and raising water for factories, workshops, public and private houses, or any place where large quantities are required—being simple in its construction and not liable to need repairing—and one person with perfect ease pump from 60 to 75 gallons per minute. It may be applied to extinguish fires, as it plays a steady stream, throwing the water, like a common engine, as high as ordinary buildings. It is also well adapted for the use of Steam-boats, being very compact, not occupying more room than the common house-pump. It has been acknowledged, on examination by scientific men, to save at least one half of the time and strength required by any pump now in use.
In offering this pump to the public, the subscribers feel confident in saying, that no other pump will perform all the work above stated with ease, but at a saving of an hundred per cent. in time from the old system. For sale by ENOS WILDER & CO, No 49 Chatham st.
Sept 11.

POETRY.

THE STOLEN GLANCE.
When last we met an idle band
Of summer friends surrounded her,
From which her worth could not command
One single-hearted worshipper.
To them she spoke with accents bland,
Yet passionless as sweet they were:
To me she gave a stolen glance,
Fraught with love's fervid utterance!
Why should I wish me one of those
Who secretly with envy burn—
Whose brightest hopes no bliss disclose—
Whose hearts no sacred fire incur—
Who listen where no feeling flows—
On whom her looks in coldness turn?
What thought about her path they move,
Mine is her stolen glance of love!

THE ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS.
(TIME, SUNDAY.)
Every capital has its especial anklous. Madrid has its Strada, pressed by the prettiest anklous in the world, and where the flutter of a thousand fans contrives to tell
What words can never speak so well.

The Coliseum.
Sees the gay crowd assemble, still assemble,
Mid the chief relics of almighty Rome—
as if to-day mocked yesterday with its likeness; for the same vanities and follies amuse the Columns and Cimattis as amused the Julias and Servias. Paris has the Gardens of the Tuileries, whose orange-trees shed the same perfume over the flirtations of le jeune France, as they did over the Montespans and Mancinis in the time of La Fronde. Not so with England. The mutability of our nation shews itself in everything. We cannot be amused long in the same place. In the time of Queen Elizabeth St Paul's was the grand rendezvous, and French lace and the Protestant cause were discussed in a breath; and the last sonnet of Sir Philip Sydney divided discourse with the last new head-gear of the maids of honor. Then came the days of the Mall, and the long black cars of King Charles's spanglers divided admiration with the long ringlets of the Stuart and the Hamilton. Kensington Gardens were next the rage, and those fine old trees saw the last of powdered heads, and trains of Troy's proud dames, whose garments sweep the ground.
It may be a weakness of my youth—a weakness long lingering,
And haunted to my very age,
With the rain shadow of the past—
But I do confess to a tender weakness in favor of powder. It set off the purity of the skin, by trying it to the utmost, and showed the forehead—
Where the violet vein,
Wandering, left a tender stain—
Shining over the purest white
Did ever softest kiss invite.

Then, how dark the eyes looked below. Moreover, there was the stately and aristocratic in the sweeping robe and the hoop; a full-dress beauty was like "the slow-gliding swan" drawing up its haughty neck—haughty in its very grace—and ruffling its conscious plumage. But this is vain, the pleasures of memory are mockeries, and
The days that I have seen, I never more shall see.
I have not alluded to Hyde Park; it has always been rather a parade than a lounge, since the days when Pepps launched his new carriage, "a handsome affair, truly," and wondered at his own courage in so doing. But the spot where Fashion's silken-shipped feet have now alighted is the Zoological Gardens. She is a modern Noah, and has taken up her abode among birds, beasts, and fishes; the last, by-the-by, with their "sweet, cold, silvery lives," being devoted to the especial amusement of the other.
Of all places the Zoological Gardens tempts us the most to adopt the Indian system of belief,
Who thinks, admitted to you equal sky,
His faithful dog will bear him company.
What have the unfortunate animals done that they should be caught among so many, and here kept
One sad single captive of millions air.

The future owes them some recompense. And yet it is odd how little they are looked at. The regular frequenters of the gardens go—not to see. The gratifies, at present, have the compliment paid them of a glance. What wild-looking creatures they are, with the heavy and awkward body, and the slight graceful head, spring like a swan, or a serpent; the type, as a German would say, of our incomplete existence. But our English exclusiveness shows itself here as everywhere else; only one part of the garden is frequented, and a stranger, seen afar off in the distant walks, has something the air of a traveller bound to Palmyra or Timbuctoo. Alas, even a crowd, that ne plus ultra of modern felicity, has its disadvantages. It is a charming place for assignments—when they are kept. Last Sunday, one was made—but it is of no use going over the old ground of man's inconstancy. A pair of very pretty blue eyes—
Both north and south, and east and west
They wandered, but in vain.

It led to the following correspondence. I think the injured fair one was wrong to write, but then young ladies are very forward now-a-days; my grandfather would not have done so.
"Dear—
We never stirred from the open space where the monkeys are, and yet we did not see you!
Yours, &c."

"Dear—
You do say the most charming things in the world—you never stirred from the monkeys, and yet you did not see me! I was looking into the monkey cages, therefore did not see you. Ever your's."

Certainly the gardens are a brilliant spectacle about six o'clock. Every body is to be seen there—and all kinds of distinction reward the passing glance. There is a group. The beautiful lady, of whom our first English living writer said, "that she was Pasta made lovely," the classical sister, and the Spanish-looking sister,
Whose eyes, like suns, the rash beholders strike,
But, like the sun, they shine on all alike.
Have they not ravaged sufficiently "the first flower of the earth, and the first gem of the sea." Close beside is the heroine of the most, nay, of the only romantic marriage of modern times. Of which, however, the most surprising part was, the surprise every one expressed about it. It was a satire on the age, that seemed to think anything like real feeling so astonishing. I do not wonder—take the extent of modern society as collected in this very garden. But I must end with a quotation which I met with somewhere, and which just suits it. "Its love is gallantry, its friendship convenience, and its business amusement." Its philosophy is to seize on the route from the cradle to the coffin, and sometimes I have thought such a system the right one. When I have marked, as all must do, the disappointment that rewards the noblest efforts, and the agony that attends the most generous affections, I have said, "Well, it is better to waste life than to use it."—London paper.

A London paper says "the King left the Castle in five carriages"—he must be a whopper to fill five carriages.

BOSTON MORNING POST.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1836.

THE SUPPLY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON WITH PURE WATER.

Mr Editor—Permit me through the medium of your columns to say a few words respecting the above subject, a subject of vital interest to the inhabitants of Boston. It is now twenty years or more since this subject has been publicly discussed; and all which has been hitherto done, I regard as only preparatory to bringing the minds of the citizens to a readiness to undertake the work of supplying the city with pure water at the public expense. Fortunately this result has been effected; and this readiness was expressed, on the part of the citizens, by a vote of nearly 16 to 1, on the 22d ult.

The city government in past years have very judiciously taken measures by discussion, by ordering surveys, and by particular recommendation, to effect this result; and many individuals have also interested themselves in the subject.

In 1825, a survey was made by order of the city, by Mr Treadwell, who recommended Spot Pond in Stoughton, as the most suitable source for procuring the supply. In consequence of the communication of Gen. Lyman to the City Council in 1834, Mr Baldwin was commissioned to make a survey, and in his very elaborate Report in October of that year, he rejected Spot Pond as inadequate, and recommended Farm Pond in Framingham, with Long Pond in Natick, and others in case of deficiency, as the most sure sources. In 1835, a memorial was presented to the City Council, signed by the physicians of Boston, in favor of introducing a sufficient supply of good water as a means of health to the inhabitants. And during the present year, Mr Eddy, by order of the city government, has made a report, in which he recommends Spot Pond, which, according to him, may be rendered sufficient for the purpose. It may be added in this connection that certain individuals, under the name of the Boston Hydraulic Company received an act of incorporation in April last. The effect of this act has been to increase the interest on the subject of pure water, and to aid in preparing the minds of the people to undertake the work.

The above means which have been used by the city government and by individuals, have been judiciously devised to produce the effect, and have had the effect of determining the citizens of Boston to the wish of having the city government to undertake the work at the expense of the city.
The city government were authorized by the city charter, we suppose, to undertake the work without consulting the wishes of the people who would be responsible for the expenditure. Years ago the city government would have undertaken this work, had they been sure that it was the desire of the people. Since the vote of the 22d, they are more sure, so far as the expression of the public voice is an indication; and they are now fully authorized in this undertaking; and if the people should hereafter be dissatisfied with the expense, provided it be judiciously and economically managed, they have none but themselves to censure; they have expressed their wish for the undertaking, and expect the city government to proceed to the work with as much despatch as its nature will allow.

The question upon which the above vote was taken, is one of the highest importance to the city. If the project be carried into effect, as it undoubtedly will be in due time, it will give an abundant supply of pure water to the citizens, in respect to domestic uses, and to various business and manufacturing purposes, and in time of need, to the extinguishment of fires. Hitherto there has been felt for a long time a deficiency to a large extent, or the water has been procured at great expense by the rich, and thousands have suffered in various ways for the want of this necessary of life.

I am aware that many of the rich are well supplied with good water in Boston; and such are not in want of it. Some of these, to their credit be it spoken, are in favor of this project, though it may be of some expense to them for a time; they are in favor of it because they are actuated by a liberal regard for the good of their fellow-citizens; because they wish to have all the poor as well as the more favored, abundantly supplied with this element.

I am perfectly satisfied that no other plan for the city, in its corporate capacity, can ever accomplish the object contemplated by this project. I am convinced that no corporation of individuals for speculative purposes can ever effect it; if it was possible for the Boston Hydraulic Company to effect it, I would by all means have them undertake it. But such corporations expend money to have it refunded to them again; and it is only the rich who can pay for it and who are already provided or can provide themselves now; and the poor would still be as much in want of water as they are now; nothing would be gained in respect to the real and urgent want.

My idea of this project is to furnish every individual now in the city, or who may hereafter be in the city, an abundant supply of pure water for all necessary and useful purposes, free of expense to him except for the fixtures for conveying it from the water pipes to his dwelling and to the place where he uses it, and that the expense of this work and the whole expense shall be borne by a tax laid upon every thing taxable until it is paid in the same manner as money is raised for any other object by a tax on the city. And I am confident that a plan can be devised, which shall be equitable, economical and ornamental, while the work, when completed, will be a monument of the wise forecast and benevolent regard for the present generation, and will remain for centuries supplying the wants and preventing the suffering and calamities which would otherwise be the lot of those who come after us. There are many considerations connected with this subject, which deserve to be distinctly brought before the public.

Catholicism.—It is said that Gen. Harrison, simple as he is, and as full of egotism as he shows himself, has expressed his decided disapprobation of the course taken by some of the fanatical Whig prints, to attack Mr Van Buren's character with the sin of Catholicism. Gen. Harrison has been heard to say, that he believed Mr Van Buren as clear of Catholic doctrines as himself. And well he may. If the fanatical enemies of toleration wish for proof, (though we desire to make no man's religious opinions a test of his political qualifications,) we will gladly remark, that during the term of his official governorship of Indiana Territory, Gen.

NEW ENGLAND CROWN GLASS.

The New England Crown Glass Company have recently erected a new furnace and are manufacturing an excellent article. Their Crown Glass is thick, pure and of excellent color. Its brilliancy gives it an advantage over all thin glass, which is liable to crack from contraction in cold weather. Its surface not being polished after being blown, retains its enamel, brilliancy and hardness, and is not liable to the objection which applies to Plate Glass, of being easily and permanently bedimmed by dust. The New England Crown Glass being purer in color than any other Glass, is preferable for Stores, as it does not tinge the rays of light as they pass through it, and therefore white goods particularly appear to advantage; and is equally useful for Factories, as some minutes of light may be gained morning and evening, in consequence of the absence of color in this glass. The price of second quality is reduced from the rates heretofore asked. 40

Those who wish to contract for this Glass are requested to specify NEW ENGLAND CROWN GLASS. As much imposition has been practised by dealers in Glass, by deceptive marks on boxes and in the glass itself, by lettering the boxes, or by having been imposed upon by the purchaser who may apprehend that the glass is of the best quality, and is not aware that he has been imposed upon by the lettering of the boxes, or by the application of the subscriber for any information he may wish to enable him to detect the deception. Orders sent to the undersigned, at Boston or East Cambridge, or to any of the Company's Agents, will be promptly attended to. Persons wishing the appointment of Selling Agent, can apply to the subscriber by letter or otherwise. 41

It has become a duty to inform the public that the genuine Improved Vegetable Yellow Pills, which are described in accordance with the doctrine of the British College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, and which are recommended by the writings and practice of Sir Astley Cooper, Mr. Abernethy, and the most eminent Physicians and Practitioners of Europe and America, are sold on the outer cover of every package, in the following lawful and particular manner:

JOSEPH RALPH, M.D.—GRADUATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH—MEMBER OF THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS, LONDON—LECTURER ON MEDICINE AND THE DISEASES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN—AND AUTHOR OF THE "FAMILY PHYSICIAN, A DOMESTIC GUIDE TO MEDICINE."

(Note. The various documents, Diplomas and stamped Certificates, which show the connection of the Author with the Institutions above mentioned, are publicly exhibited at the General Office, corner of Nassau Street, N.Y., and may be seen by any individual at any time.)

Nothing seems to have afforded more general satisfaction and advantage to society, than having the Hygeine Medicine prescribed and prepared by a regular and practical physician, and one who may at all times be consulted or appealed to, either by post or otherwise, on the subject of its operation and disease. This also is the more appreciated in consequence of the number of different medicines which are daily advertised under various pretences in the name of "Hygeine" and "Original Hygeine."

The directions which accompany every package of this Domestic Medicine, are exceedingly plain and particular, the proper dose and management of the medicine being given under the head of each disorder separately. And it is to be kept in mind, that this medicine by its use, especially country families, find that nothing is more economical or better adapted for family use, and being free from mercury or any hurtful property, they may always be resorted to with perfect safety, and with the most much to state with strict regard to truth, that thousands are indebted to this medicine for the preservation of life and health.

The connection which exists between the organs of digestion and almost all diseases, being the basis of this Domestic Medicine, there is scarcely a disorder incident to human nature in which they are not taken advantageously, but those disorders in which the most remarkable instances of benefit and cures have been experienced are the following:—Bilious Disorders, Dyspepsia, affections of the head and nervous complaints, with all the various disorders which originate in derangement of the bowels. Also, Fevers, Inflammation, Croup, Rheumatism, Cutaneous Diseases, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Scrophulous Glands, which, when taken in time, and especially Gravel, Gleet, and other weaknesses in the Urinary and Genital organs.

This Medicine also, in a peculiar manner, is adapted to the disorders of the female constitution, both in early and more advanced periods of life.

INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS. ANDERSON'S VEGETABLE PILLS FOR Indigestion or Indigestion, Jaundice and Bilious Complaints, weakness of the Stomach and Bowels, and consequent loss of appetite; nervous complaints, headache, sour stomach, flatulency, and indigestion of food.

This medicine is composed entirely of vegetable substances, is perfectly safe in its operation, and may be given to children or persons of the most delicate habit, without the least risk of inconvenience.

The numerous success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other parts of the United States, and in the West Indies, attested by distinguished and highly respectable persons, affords, next to a trial of the medicine, the most satisfactory commentary upon its virtues, and the best recommendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extract of a letter received from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered severely from indigestion for three years. "During this time, I suffered very much from mental depression, constant pain in the head and breast, and side, sharp shooting pain almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my lungs and there remain, giving me great pain as it tended with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to my bed for two or three days. During one of these most severe attacks I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetable Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the use of the medicine, I continued, until I was myself wholly free from the complaint. I continue, on the least feeling of any thing like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a table spoonful of it, which, in the course of a few hours completely restores me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect in strengthening the stomach and invigorating the whole system, and judging by my own case, I consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs, to be a very valuable medicine."

It has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most obstinate headache, and in strengthening the stomach.

It is put up in large bottles containing a pound and a half and sold at seventy-five cents each, by Jonathan P. Hall, Jr., No. 1, Union street, John P. Whitwell, Milk street, John L. Brown, near Boylston Market, Erastus S. Holden, near the Western Avenue, Richard A. Newell, Summer street, near Samuel Kidder & Co. Charlestown, E. G. Lemon, Roxbury.
